STONE HILTON CONTINUES AGGRESSIVE EXPANSION WITH THE ADDITION OF ITS NEWEST PARTNER

June 26, 2024

AUSTIN – In its most recent move, Stone Hilton, PLLC, announced the addition of their newest partner, Alithea Sullivan.

For nearly two decades, Alithea has represented publicly traded companies at white-shoe and boutique law firms in Austin and Washington, D.C. She focuses on counseling corporate clients in shareholder class actions, derivative suits, and big-dollar commercial and corporate-governance disputes.

“Alithea is a fantastic addition to our law firm,” said Judd Stone, founding partner of Stone Hilton. “She’s well known as a trusted counselor to boardrooms and C-suites—an advantage our clients will surely benefit from. She has the skills our high-profile clients require, and we’re proud of her addition to the firm.”

Her litigation experience includes disclosure rules under the Securities Act of 1933 and the Exchange Act of 1934, along with fiduciary-duty, breach-of-contract, and fraud claims. When business rivals start saber-rattling about high-stakes litigation, executives turn to Alithea for fierce advocacy, a gifted pen, and a sophisticated understanding of industries ranging from energy to financial services to telecommunications.

“I could not think of a better law firm to join than Stone Hilton,” said Alithea. “There aren’t many firms that can handle complex cases like this group of exceptional lawyers. I’m looking forward to working alongside Chris, Judd, Ari and the rest of the team.”

Equally at home in state and federal courts, Alithea has represented clients in the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas, the Travis County District Court, the Delaware Court of Chancery, and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, among others.

Mrs. Sullivan is a Harvard College and Harvard Law School graduate, where she served as Forum Editor of the Harvard Law Review.

More news to come as Stone Hilton will make additional announcements in the near future.
